ENTER KINGSTON MUSEUM'S DESIGN COMPETITION TO CELEBRATE QUEEN ELIZABETH II'S PLATINUM JUBILEE

Leading artists and photographers have been involved in creating the official decorative objects that mark Royal Coronations and Jubilees. One of Kingston Museum's most famous exhibits is the 'Crazy Patchwork Vase' that Thomas Abbot, an expert in restoration, created using 1540 broken pieces of china to celebrate Queen Victoria's Diamond Jubilee in 1897.

NOW IT'S YOUR TURN

Design a cup, a plate, a dish, or even a tea towel using any media. Challenge, innovate or simply go traditional. Selected by a panel of judges, the winning designs will be included in Kingston Museum's Jubilee Display - Our Queen: On a Plate

Closing Date for Entries
Saturday 21 May 2022

How to Enter:

- Take a jpeg photograph of your design sized between 2-5+MB.
- Email your entry kingston.museum@kingston.gov.uk by Saturday 7 May 2022.
- There will be two age categories - Under 11s and 12-16s. Include your name and age and a contact email address. Please include the declaration 'I confirm that this design is my own work, and give permission for the finished design to be produced and displayed in Kingston Museum's Jubilee display.'
